

Public Notices Policy

Reviewed and approved by the Red Feather Mountain Library District Board of Trustees on April 26, 2017.

As a community resource center Red Feather Lakes Community Library provides space as available for the posting of community or cultural information flyers, bulletins, and other informational materials. Posting must be done on designated Library community bulletin boards and are subject to approval by the Library Director.

To be considered for posting, materials posted must be non-commercial, nonprofit and non-partisan. Community organizations, events, fundraisers, calendars of events, and social events open to all residents or visitors are encouraged to submit material for posting.

Commercial postings, as a business service, and individual events and services, such as garage sales and business cards, are not considered and should be served at other posting locations within the community.

As a community service as well as a continuing community issue, the Library does allow limited posting of lost pet and animal flyers.

Religious or spiritual organizations with a permanent local address are welcome to post hours of service, contact information and events. Doctrinal material is not accepted.

Political postings are not permitted.

The placement of other materials within the Library such as newsletters, magazines brochures, handouts and related free material is at the discretion of the Library Director.

Precedence will be given to local information and community services.

The Library reserves the right to accept or reject any submitted posting material. Duration of posting is at the discretion of the Library.
