The Finance Committee, a sub-committee of the RFMLD Board of Trustees (hence, the Board), provides oversight for the accounting process.

The RFMLD will use a combination of recording procedures: (i) QuickBooks Non-Profit or other approved accounting system; (ii) spreadsheet software for projects as needed; (iii) other approved recording procedures, as needed.

Storage of data

Management of Financial Records will adhere to the RFMLD's policy for retention, archives and destruction of records as mandated by C.S.R.24-72-203 I.

Only authorized Board members or the Director may deposit checks online.
- 3. Incidental Expenses: The RFMLD may distribute debit cards to the Director and designated Library staff for small purchases. Maximum monthly limits for each card will be determined by the Board. The Library's change box may also be used for incidental expenses. Incidental expenditure shall not exceed $200/day. Expenditures in excess of daily or monthly limits must be pre-approved by the director and one other authorized signer.

4. Reimbursable Grant Expenses: The RFMLD may issue a debit card to the Library Director to cover reimbursable grant expenses and reoccurring scheduled charges only. Maximum monthly limits will be determined by the Board. Expenditures in excess of daily or monthly limits must be pre-approved by the director and one other authorized signer. The Library Director will authorize the grant principal investigator to use this debit card when needed.

Monthly reports will be discussed at the Board meetings.

To ensure the financial health of the RFMLD and the accuracy of all financial transactions performed by the Financial Librarian, a professional Accountant/CPA will review and analyze all such transactions on a quarterly basis and or as needed. The professional Accountant/CPA will also prepare all quarterly and yearly state and federal IRS reports. The Financial Librarian will ~~disperse~~ distribute the reports to the proper authorities.
