STANDARDS OF ACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOR POLICY

Reviewed and revised by the Red Feather Mountain Board of Trustees November 11, 2025

- I. Use of library property is intended for all users, employees, and volunteers to be comfortable, safe, convenient, and advantageous. Therefore, user behavior is expected to foster these goals in providing a welcoming atmosphere in which both the user's and library's business is transacted respectfully, comfortably and beneficially.
- II. User behavior that interferes with, limits, or disrupts normal library operation, or use of the facility or Library property in ways clearly not intended by policy, procedure or precedence is unacceptable user behavior and is subject to remedy by the library.
- III. Unacceptable behavior may range from boisterous actions, profanity, infringing on the rights or comfort of others, intoxication, drug use or other illegal behaviors, theft, solicitation, vandalism, viewing of pornography, or the intended interference with Library staff, volunteers and other users that is clearly uncomfortable, disruptive and/or unsafe. Other behaviors may apply.
- IV. Within the limitations of Colorado Statute, the Library is intended to be a weapons-free zone. The open carry of weapons within the library is prohibited. Concealed weapons in the possession of individuals holding a valid concealed weapons permit within the library that directly or inadvertently become visible are subject to request by Library staff that the weapon either be concealed or secured outside of the library. Concealment requests ignored may result in Library staff contacting law enforcement to resolve the incident.
- V. Cell phones are to be used appropriately and respectfully within the library.
- VI. A judgment of inappropriate behavior is made by the library director or otherwise the librarian-in-charge who may take reasonable and appropriate action to resolve the issue. This may range from discussion through the limiting of library privileges, expulsion, or the summoning of outside assistance. Individuals who feel that they have been unfairly treated have the right of appeal to the Library Director or otherwise the Library Board of Trustees.
